

OPPORTUNITY TO TEACH ENGLISH IN OMAN IN THE SUMMER OF 2013

Intro

The Company (Institute name-withheld) was started in 1991 as a project by an American couple, to provide quality English language services using native & near-native English speakers. All resource persons are encouraged to interact with the local Arab population, learn the culture in the process & live exemplary lifestyles as 'Salt and Light'.

The Demand: The demand for learning the English language has been on the increase particularly in the summer months, when high school students are on holidays. In the summer of 2012, the institute had approximately 500 students attend classes, with many more turned away for lack of sufficient teachers. SUMMER 2013 IS JULY 6 TO AUGUST 7, 2013. Classes are approx. 62 hours in a 5-week period. Teachers should plan to arrive a week before classes begin.

Vision 2013: Our 2013 summer target is to train 1,000 Omani's. To achieve this, we need a conservative estimate of 50-summer staff strength. In 2012, we had 36 summer staff workers.

Opportunities: There are several unique opportunities available to our teachers

- Living and working in close proximity with friendly Arabs.
- Learning & understanding the Arab culture and traditions.
- Developing your Arabic language (optional).
- Enjoying the beauty of Omani's exquisite landscapes and nature reserves.

Expectations: We have 6 non-negotiable expectations:

- Professionalism: Provide the best service in a professional manner.
- Cultural sensitivity: Be careful not to offend by willing to learn and adapt to new culture.
- Team Work: Work as a member of the team and not as a lone-ranger.
- Law-Abiding: Obedience to all structural procedures/ laws of the Institute and the country.
- Strong Work ethics: Commitment to hard work in meeting agreed deadlines.
- Maturity: Should be spiritually and emotionally stable.
